Route to Professional Engineer 2026

Intermediate · 2 hours · Virtual training

Level	Intermediate
Duration	2 hours
Delivery	Virtual training
Funding	FREE under National Training Week (NTW) 2026. Registration is handled through the official NTW portal — no HRD Corp claim, employer approval or payment is required for this session.

Programme Overview

Planning your journey towards Professional Engineer (Ir.) status? This practical 2-hour virtual session explains the Board of Engineers Malaysia Professional Assessment Examination pathway from end to end, so you can see exactly where you stand today and what the next concrete step looks like. Participants walk through the eligibility criteria, the shape of the assessment, and the evidence assessors expect, then learn how to organise their engineering experience and supporting documentation into a coherent submission. The session is designed for engineers who intend to apply but are unsure how to structure their experience record, what counts as acceptable evidence, or how long the route realistically takes. It runs free of charge under National Training Week 2026 and serves as an orientation to the full BEM PAE Preparation Programme for those who want deeper, mentored support afterwards.

Learning Outcomes

- Describe the BEM PAE route and its eligibility requirements
- Assess your current readiness against assessor expectations
- Organise engineering experience into a structured evidence record
- Identify the documentation required for a complete submission
- Recognise the common gaps that delay or weaken applications
- Plan realistic next steps and a personal preparation timeline
